

A414 Edinburgh Way

Latest progress - June 2018

Utility works progress to support future carriageway widening on north and south of Edinburgh Way:

- During overnight road closures in April, trenches were excavated and ducts laid to accommodate utility company services. Similar works were completed across the A414 close to Harlow Mill roundabout as well as a number of unnamed access roads.
- Trenches have been excavated on the south side of Edinburgh Way, working in an easterly direction from River Way roundabout to allow the relocation of utility services from the verges.
- A number of footways have been closed, fencing installed and temporary routes and crossing points put into place for the safety of the public and the workforce.
- Works are continuing on the north side of Edinburgh Way to complete the utility diversions. These will be followed by drainage works, which are required in advance of the carriageway being widened.
